Dear Sir:

I appreciate your offer to transfer the residue of the [] project. 25X1A We have inspected this material and believe it will be useful in the conduct of our programs. I also recognize the desirability of preserving some of the developments for possible future use in other applications.

In view of these factors, the Army will accept your offer and will be pleased to receive the residue from the [] project. 25X1A

The material will be stored at Ft Huachuca, Arizona. The documents which are stored in the Washington area will be distributed to several locations, including our program Office here in St. Louis, I propose to send the same inspection party to sort this documentation before it is shipped.

I understand there is one subsystem which was normally used in operating the equipment which has been diverted to another use. If that subsystem, with documentation, becomes available in the future, I would appreciate the opportunity to consider transfer. It would make the system more complete, and the technology involved is also of interest.

It would be of considerable assistance to our program, if you would review the security aspects and declassify everything you deem appropriate prior to the transfer.

We are pleased that [] may be available for a month to assist us in assimilating the material. This will be very helpful.

Thank you very much for this material; the Army will put it to good use.

Sincerely,
